

Ford did not provide individual responses to our questions, but instead sent the following general statement:

At this point Ford is not yet required under U.S law to submit a filing, so have not done so. We plan to submit a filing when required. This is consistent with Ford's global practice of compliance.