

Gap did not provide individual answers to our questions, but instead sent the following statement:

We appreciate the opportunity to provide information about our sourcing activities in Myanmar. We voluntarily filed a report “Responsible Sourcing in Myanmar” on these activities on August 25, 2014, which is based on the U.S. government’s Responsible Investment Reporting Requirements and publicly available on the U.S. Embassy Rangoon’s website here (http://photos.state.gov/libraries/burma/895/pdf/Gap_Inc_Myanmar_Public_Report-8_25_14FINAL.pdf).

The report contains the information that we would use to respond to the questions in your message. We are hoping it is sufficient to provide a link in the BHRRC database that interested parties can use to access the report on the U.S. Embassy site.
