“Inditex’s response”, 7 July 2026

Thank you very much for the opportunity to respond to below inquiry.

We would like to clarify that Mukul Knitwear is not part of Inditex's supply chain.

We have carefully reviewed the information available and have not found any evidence linking Mukul Knitwear to Inditex or to the production of garments for Zara or any other Inditex brand. This includes the information shared with us, which does not mention nor Inditex or our brands nor our supply chain.

In light of the above, we kindly request that any reference to Inditex or any of our brands would be removed from the Allegations Tracker or any other linked report.
