

Keltbray is committed to driving out acts of modern day slavery and human trafficking within its business and from within its supply chain, including subcontractors, and partners. The company acknowledges responsibility to the Modern Slavery Act 2015 and will ensure transparency within the organisation and with suppliers of goods and services to the organisation. These as well as the suppliers of services make up the supply chain within Keltbray.

As part of the companies due diligence processes into slavery and human trafficking, the supplier approval process will incorporate a review of the controls undertaken by the supplier. Imported goods from sources outside the UK and EU are potentially more at risk for slavery/human trafficking issues. The level of management control required for these sources will be continually monitored.

The company will not support or deal with any business knowingly involved in slavery or human trafficking.

The company Directors and senior management shall take responsibility for implementing this policy statement and its objectives and shall provide adequate resources (training, etc.) and investment to ensure that slavery and human trafficking is not taking place within the organisation and within its supply chains.

A full copy of this policy will be accessible to all employees electronically and a copy of the Modern Slavery Act 2015 can be obtained from the HR / HSQE department upon request.

This policy takes into account, and supports, the policies, procedures and requirements documented in our Management System(s). It is compliant with the requirements of ISO 9001, ISO 14001 and OHSAS 18001. The implementation and operation of our Management System(s) underlines our commitment to this policy. Additional procedures ensure that this policy is understood and communicated to all levels of the company, and that it is regularly reviewed by the Directors to ensure its continued suitability and relevance to the company activities.

This policy statement will be reviewed annually, published and be briefed to all employees during induction and each time it is reviewed.
