Dear Gregory and Kasumi,
Regarding the petition before the Commission of Human Rights of the Philippines that names ConocoPhillips in the context of human rights impacts resulting from climate change, we do not comment on active legal matters, but can confirm that we have responded directly to the Commission and have made various legal challenges to the Commission's activity including a challenge to jurisdiction over ConocoPhillips given our lack of operations in the Philippines.

We operate responsibly and take climate change issues seriously; managing greenhouse gas emissions in our operations and integrating climate change-related activities and goals into our business planning. We recognize the benefits of efficient use of our products and the role natural gas plays in reducing global emissions.

Best regards,
