

H&M has said it has committed to pay in full for all orders that were finished and/or in production in its response to our survey: https://www.business-humanrights.org/sites/default/files/documents/H%26M%20response_1.pdf

Worker Rights Consortium has since marked H&M on its' Covid-19 tracker with an asterisk, which indicates that suppliers have raised concerns that the corporation is not honoring its commitment; WRC is investigating to determine whether to change its designation